

Holiday Markets 2023

Written by Fabulous Arizona • Published on November 15, 2023 • in Family & Pets, See & Do

Through mid-December, there are a variety of holiday markets in Phoenix and beyond for filling those stockings during this season of giving. With bonuses like live music and warm drinks, these markets will make you feel especially festive while shopping small.

Nov. 24 to Nov. 26: Holiday Market at Legacy Park

Mesa

From 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. during Thanksgiving weekend, locals are invited to shop the goods of 200-plus vendors while enjoying live music and plenty of kid-friendly activities at Legacy Park. It is $5 to enter and $5 to park at the three-day holiday market. For more information, visit queencreekchamber.com.

Nov. 25 and Dec. 16: Sip & Shop Market at Greenwood Brewing

Greenwood Brewing hosts the return of its Sip & Shop Market event on Small Business Saturday, Nov. 25, from 11 to 4 p.m., and its Holiday Night Market on Dec. 16, from 6 to 9 p.m. The holiday markets in Phoenix feature an array of woman-owned vendors from around the Valley. In addition to a delightful shopping experience, Greenwood Brewing will be offering special deals during both events. Attendees can enjoy two mini beers for $7.25 or opt for a tasting flight for $10. Greenwood Brewing will also be launching seasonal beers, including the Harvest Diem Spiced Ale, Twilight Nitro (coffee milk stout), Girl Dinner Saison, Schnitzel Pop Festbier and Spicy Mango Sour. Free to attend. For more information, visit greenwoodbrews.com.

Dec. 1: Luminarias Holiday Market

Scottsdale

From 5 to 8 p.m. on Dec. 1, Andaz Scottsdale hosts the festive fourth-annual Luminarias Holiday Market. Guests can splurge on a variety of apparel, home décor, jewelry and art for gifting this holiday season. The get in the spirit of things, shoppers are surrounded by over 500 beautiful luminaries and can savor the sounds of Joel Dalton, who will perform at the open-air market.
